94 MISSING IN COLLISION ON URUGUAY

Buenos Aires (AP)—The captain and crew of an American freighter were questioned today in an effort to determine the cause of a collision that sank an Argentine steamer and left 94 persons missing.

All the missing were among the 247 persons aboard the river steamer City of Buenos Aires. No one aboard the freighter Mormacsurf, owned by the Moore-McCormack lines of New York, was injured. Only slight hope was held that some of the missing might have reached safety after the river boat went down Tuesday night in the Uruguay River 78 miles north of Buenos Aires.

The 7,890-ton Mormacsurf—loaded with grain and canned meat—steamed into Buenos Aires harbor yesterday, a 15-foot section of her prow bent 45 degrees to starboard by the collision.

The 3,754-ton City of Buenos Aires, owned by the Doderio Steamship Line, for years had been shuttling passengers and cargo between Buenos Aires and Montevideo. Many passengers were in bed or preparing to retire when the two vessels crunched together shortly before midnight. The river boat went down before lifeboats could be launched.

A government communique said 153 persons—66 crewmen and 87 passengers—were rescued from the river steamer. Survivors said many of those lost were old people and children who could not swim.

Republican Candidate Declines Dem Nomination

Brockway (AP)—A candidate who lost his bid for the Republican nomination for district attorney of Jefferson County has declined a chance to run for the post on the Democratic ticket.

"My roots are sunk too deep in the Republican party to run as a Democrat," J. L. Poyer said yesterday.

Poyer was defeated in the May primary by Dist. Atty. William McKnight but he received several hundred write-in votes for the Democratic nomination.

Bedroom Tales Throw Trial Into a "Tizzy"

Los Angeles (AP)—"Bedroom stories" about Corinne Calvet, Dorothy Dandridge, Frank Sinatra and Alan Dale have thrown the California magazine libel trial into a tizzy.

Famous names continued to fall like rain as the sensational case moved toward its end.

The prosecutor and a defense witness got into a lively squabble yesterday afternoon over the question: What is a "bedroom story?"

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritz was trying to establish that Confidential filled his pages with material which he said was on a level with "washroom stories" in obscenity.

Health Officials Recommended Flu Vaccine on Priority Basis

Washington (AP)—The nation's state health officers have recommended that Asian flu vaccine be administered on a priority basis to assure maintenance of essential community services in event of epidemics.

The Association of State and Territorial Health Officers of the United States asked the U. S. surgeon general yesterday to recommend that physicians give priority to three groups:

(1) Doctors and other medical and health workers, (2) individuals "necessary to maintain other basic community services," and (3) persons with tuberculosis and those with other special medical problems.

The association did not spell out who should be listed in priority

All Out Enforcement to Curb Holiday Fatalities Is Ordered

Harrisburg (AP)—Gov. Leader has launched an "all out enforcement effort" to curb the Labor Day holiday traffic toll through the use of state troopers in plain clothes and unmarked autos.

Yesterday he directed Col. E. J. Henry, state police commissioner, to order every available trooper to highway patrol duty during the summer's last long holiday period. It begins at 6 p. m. tomorrow and extends until midnight Labor Day.

"We must not have another holiday toll such as the one Pennsylv-

GOP Congressional Committee Studies Wisconsin Results

By JOHN KOENIG, JR.

AP Special Washington Service
Washington (AP)—Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, said today he was not greatly surprised at the upset victory scored by Democrat William Proxmire in Wisconsin's special senatorial election.

"Having to choose between two ultra-liberal candidates, the large Republican conservative majority in the state stayed home and allowed a liberal Democrat to win," Simpson told a newsman.

Simpson and his committee staff are reviewing a breakdown of returns in the election Tuesday in which Proxmire defeated Wisconsin's three-time governor, Walter J. Kohler, a staunch supporter of President Eisenhower.

In contrast to Simpson's reaction to the election, Sen. Clark (D-Pa.), said when he heard the news he could react only "like an 11-year-old" and shout enthusiastically: "Oh, boy!"

Further Details About Anthracite Expressway

Harrisburg (AP)—The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads said today a proposed north-south limited access highway east of the Susquehanna River would run through the heart of the anthracite region.

The 200-mile Anthracite Expressway would start at Binghamton, N. Y. proceed south through all of Pennsylvania and wind up at Hagerstown, Md., as part of the federal interstate highway system.

STATE WORKER KILLED

New Kensington (AP)—An auto killed a State Highways Dept. employee yesterday while he was flagging traffic on Route 366, eight miles south of New Kensington.

The victim, Amos Mull, 53, of Apollo, RD 1, was a member of a crew grading the road. The driver was Glenn E. Hahne, 18, of Mt. Oliver, a Pittsburgh suburb.

Historic Revere Hotel, shown above, changed hands once again this week when Steve and Julia Rock of Fairview, near Erie, took over ownership of the premises from Mr. and Mrs. Nick Marinoble who had operated it the past six years under the name "Riverside Hotel."

The near century old structure was built by a member of the Metzger family shortly after the Civil War ended in 1865. Since that time it has become a landmark at its location on the corner of Pennsylvania avenue at the Pennsylvania Railroad Station depot.

The 33-room Revere Hotel became a favorite stopping off place late in the 19th century for railroad patrons who alighted adjacent to its front door, and also for river traffic which would moor at the Allegheny River bank across Pennsylvania avenue.

Oldtime residents will well remember the Gleason family as proprietors, first Larry, and then his more famous brother M. K. "Mike" Gleason, who managed the hostelry for perhaps a quarter of a century into the early 1900's.

Less prosperous days fell upon the Revere Hotel in later years when a location, once handy to railroad transportation, became less desirable. Then began a series of sales as the property passed from one owner to another.

Patrick Madden purchased the building right after repeal, then Dominic Rizzo owned the hotel for nine years. He sold it to Bill Walters, and Paul Allen owned it before his sale to the Marinobles who operated the establishment six years, three months and three days.

The Marinobles changed the name Revere to Riverside as they came in from out of state (Cleveland) and had to form a Riverside Hotel Corporation.

Salesman Who Threatened Como Children Is Seized

Minsola, N. Y. (AP)—A salesman who threatened the lives of singer Perry Como's three children has been sent to a mental hospital.

Joseph Tito, 32, of New York City's Astoria section, was seized yesterday after he made a threatening telephone call to Como's home at Sands Point on Long Island.

Arraigned in District Court, Tito told a woman judge he was designating her to replace Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Judge Kathleen M. Kane, ordered Tito taken to Pilgrim State Hospital at Brentwood, N. Y., for mental examination.

Billy Hoping Churches Will Continue Crusade

New York (AP)—Billy Graham says he wants the churches of New York to carry on in the spirit of his crusade after he leaves the city Sunday night.

The evangelist, speaking before a capacity crowd of 19,200 at Madison Square Garden last night, pleaded for a "spiritual awakening and revival" in every church in the city.

The Rev. Dan Potter, executive secretary of the Protestant Council of Churches of the City of New York, appeared on the rostrum and expressed appreciation to Graham for his campaign.

At the end of Graham's sermon, which assailed "pride, selfishness, idolatry and worldliness," 731 persons went forward to make "decisions for Christ." The total of decisions since the crusade started May 15 stands at 53,207. Total attendance is reported as 1,741,600.

STAMPS WITH CIGARETTES

Harrisburg (AP)—A State Justice Department ruling permits dealers to give trading stamps with purchases of cigarettes. "It is the opinion of the department," the ruling states, "that it is not a violation of the Unfair Cigarette Sales Act to give trading stamps with the sale of cigarettes." The ruling was made yesterday on a request by the State Revenue Department. Since the law makes it illegal to sell cigarettes at less than cost with the intent to injure competition the question arose on whether giving stamps would be banned.

Disarmament Package Plan To Halt East-West Atomic Arms Race Is Presented to Russia

Washington (AP)—The United States and its Western Allies presented to Russia today a package disarmament plan which would halt the East-West atomic arms race and cut military burdens.

A statement issued here covering presentation of the 11-point plan at the London disarmament talks called it a "practical, workable plan for a start on world disarmament."

The United States originated the proposals but they were worked out jointly with Britain, France and Canada and cleared with the rest of the NATO allies.

However Congress still might be able to adjourn tonight despite Thurmond. Knowland said his report was the first word Eisenhower had received that the Senate had

With one or two exceptions, the proposals had already been outlined orally in the disarmament talks so that the 3,000-word document contained little new information. There was nothing of a surprise nature.

One of the new provisions, designed to meet Russia's insistent call for a ban on the use of nuclear weapons, specifies that each country participating in disarmament would use nuclear weapons only in self-defense.

The wording is stated in negatives this way:

"Each party assumes an obligation not to use nuclear weapons if an armed attack has not placed the party in a situation of individual or collective self-defense."

This construction was officially explained as being necessary to allow for the use of nuclear weapons in case the United States, for example, became involved in a "situation of defense" because of an attack on an Allied country.

Related to this section was another more or less new proposal—there had been some talk about it at London—which is designed to

Injured Girl Says She Was Not Driver Of Death Car

Miss Barbara Ann Roseman has told police that she was asleep in a corner of the seat when the car crashed near Youngsville and killed her companion August 17.

Miss Roseman, 17, of Titusville, had been in shock in Warren General Hospital since the accident and was not able to be questioned about the mishap until yesterday.

Her friend, Janet Moore, 19, also of Titusville was killed.

Miss Moore's body had been found lying beside the wreckage and Miss Roseman was found behind the wheel, causing some speculation as to who had been driving. However, a Jamestown boy friend had stated that Miss Moore was driving when the couple left him and it has been pointed out that Miss Roseman does not possess a license.

Miss Roseman is reported to have said further that she did not remember any fog around Jamestown but that it may have been foggy near Youngsville. She does not remember. Miss Roseman added that she must have crawled over the seat after the crash if she had not been flung behind the wheel as the machine crumpled against a bridge abutment just west of Youngsville on Route 6.

Miss Roseman had her jaw set yesterday at the hospital where she remained in deep shock for days. When told of her companion's death, Miss Roseman showed little surprise and said she believed she had heard someone mention it when she was in a semi-conscious condition.

PITTSBURGH TUNNEL
Pittsburgh (AP)—Drilling of Pittsburgh's 17 million dollar Fort Pitt Tunnels was started yesterday. Work on the 3,600-foot tunnels through Mt. Washington is expected to be completed by February, 1960. Crews will dig on a 24-hour schedule. When completed, the tunnels will connect the east and west sections of the Penn-Lincoln Parkway. The Fort Pitt bridge, which will connect the tunnels with the downtown link, is under construction.

MISSILE REPORT
Cocoa Beach, Fla. (AP)—Reports that a second missile may be shot from here this week circulated today in the wake of the test-firing of a projectile with a range of 1,500 miles. The Defense Department would not comment on whether the firing was a reply to Russia's claim that Soviet scientists have tested successfully an intercontinental missile able to deliver a hydrogen bomb load anywhere in the world.

AMERICANS IN RED CHINA
Are Touring Industries
London (AP)—The Americans visiting Red China started out today on a tour of northeast industrial centers, leaving behind in Peiping one of their number who is slated to be deported.

The British news agency Reuters reported from the Red Chinese capital that Shelby Tucker, the American in ill favor with the Communists, was at the railway station to wave goodbye to his fellow tourists. They will visit Changchun, Dairen and Tientsin before returning to Peiping next week.

Ohio School Students Almost Given 'Hot Foot'

Dayton, Ohio (AP)—The Kettering school board almost made it legal to give Fairmont High School students a "hot foot."

But Mrs. Dorothy Milby, a board member, caught the typographical error in the clerk's minutes just in time. The official minutes authorized a vending company to "provide a hot foot by vending machines as needed at the new Fairmont High School."

Mrs. Milby said: "We intend to provide hot foot."

SOUTHERN SENATOR DRONES THROUGH THE NIGHT AND ON INTO DAY IN SOLO CAMPAIGN

BULLETIN

Washington (AP)—Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) apparently got his second wind and definitely developed an edgy temper today as he continued his one-man filibuster against the civil rights bill. He chalked up 15 hours at 11:54 a. m. Indicating he was not about to quit, Thurmond promised he would "discuss at some length" the protections he said South Carolina voters get under state laws. He proceeded to do just that. The flashes of temper appeared as other senators conferred, in whispers, on the floor. At one point Thurmond called for order in the chamber when a clerk whispered something to Sen. Yarborough (D-Tex.), who was presiding at the time. Thurmond stopped and glared pointedly another time at Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) as they held a whispered consultation with a committee clerk.

Washington (AP)—Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) droned past 13 hours today a one-man filibuster against the compromise civil rights bill. He chalked up 13 hours at 9:54 a. m. and kept on in the face of word from the GOP leader, Sen. Knowland of California, that it was all futile.

Knowland, looking fresh in contrast to the obvious wear on Thurmond, appeared in the chamber at 6:30 a. m. to tell the South Carolinian he couldn't win, that there will be no adjournment of Congress until there is civil rights action, and that Thurmond was inviting rules changes making it easier to break up a long talk.

Then, after the brief interruption, Knowland went to the White House, for breakfast with President Eisenhower while Thurmond kept going.

After the White House session Knowland said he had told Eisenhower compiled during the Fourth of July holiday, the governor asserted in a statement announcing the drive.

The Republican leader said there were indications Thurmond's operation was "a purely isolated and solo filibuster."

It was the first time the Senate had stayed in round-the-clock session since 1953. The day's regular sitting started at 10 a. m. so that a 24-hour run was guaranteed when Thurmond went past that time and into his 14th hour.

The last all-night sitting in 1953 featured a 22-hour and 26-minute speech by Sen. Morse (D-Ore.) against the tideland bill. Morse set an unofficial Senate record for marathon talk.

Frequently Thurmond's voice was so low he could not be heard in the press and public galleries. However, about 9:30 a. m. his voice gained strength as he began re-reading a statement he made to the Senate Tuesday night in a vain effort to have the bill sent to the Judiciary Committee after it had been passed by the House.

Thurmond was helped by two aides who sat near him during the night and handed him papers to read. They were Alex McCullough, his administrative assistant, and Harry S. Dent, a legislative assistant.

When Knowland arrived for his brief interruption there were only three persons in the galleries and three members on the floor—Sens. Clark (D-Pa.), presiding, and Mansfield (D-Mont.) and Hruska (R-Neb.).

An aide of Thurmond said he wouldn't use the word filibuster to describe the senator's marathon speech. "The senator says he has some education to do."

Thurmond spoke to an almost deserted chamber as the night wore on. When he rose to speak at 9 p. m., there were some 15 senators on hand. After midnight, this number had dropped to three or so. The galleries emptied.

Several other Southern senators had spoken during the long session that began at 10 a. m. yesterday. Virtually to a man, they voiced their unyielding opposition to the civil rights bill which passed the House in compromise form.

All conceded they lacked the numerical strength to talk the legislation to death.

Beck Facing Second Multiple Charge of Income Tax Evasion

Tacoma, Wash. (AP)—A second multiple indictment charging evasion of income taxes—this time totaling $184,000—faced Dave Beck today. His son and four others are accused of aiding him conceal his earnings.

The seven count charge covering the years 1951-53 was returned here yesterday by a federal grand jury and quickly denied in Los Angeles by the portly head of the Teamsters Union. It culminated a four and a half week investigation by the jurors who indicted Beck May 2 on charges of evading $56,000 in taxes in 1950.

Named in the indictment were his son Dave Jr.; Fred Verschueren Sr., an auditor for the Teamsters Union; Nathan Shefferman, a Chicago labor relations consultant; Shefferman's son, Shelton; and Norman Gessart, a Teamsters Union organizer who is a cousin of Mrs. Beck Sr.

The jury accused Beck and his wife of declaring net income of $49,944.83 for 1951 when it actually should have been $168,035.61, paying a tax of $18,692.62 instead of $10,801.39.

In 1952, the Becks reported income of $51,991.75 and paid a tax of $22,202.22. The indictment says the actual income was $169,211.21 and the tax should have been $110,870.24.

The following year they paid $30,005.72 on a declared income of $63,730.31 when, the indictment charges, they should have paid $44,415.71 on an income of $84,758.10.

Maximum penalty for income tax evasion and for conspiracy is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine for each count.

Washington (AP)—Legislation for establishment of a Federal fish hatchery in northwestern Pennsylvania had House approval today.

The bill, authored by Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), now goes to the Senate.

Location of the proposed hatchery hasn't been pinpointed, but Gavin said one is needed to stock some 500 miles of trout streams in the Allegheny National Forest and the proposed Kluksa Reservoir, which will create a lake about 20 miles long.

The House committee on merchant marine and fisheries has said present hatchery facilities in the area are insufficient for adequate stocking of streams.

Viewing Harrisburg

By LEONARD A. UNGER
Harrisburg (P) — Like clockwork, Governor Leader is mailing to Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) the twice-a-week reports on highway fatalities in Pennsylvania.

The stunt is intended to melt away Wade's opposition to an administration plan to permit state police to use radar as evidence in speeding arrests.

Wade remains unconvinced. He takes the same position that he did in June when the Senate Highways Committee served as the graveyard for the governor's radar plan.

Radar has yet to prove itself, according to Wade.

The governor started to mail the reports in mid-June accompanied by a statement that Wade's opposition to radar was "sentencing hundreds of citizens to death."

Since then, more than 300 persons have been killed on Pennsylvania highways, about 90 of them attributable to excessive speeding.

Wade is saving the reports to form the basis of a full-fledged rebuttal to Leader's position. He says there's nothing in the recital of the facts in the accidents to indicate that radar would have averted the fatalities.

Wade recently went to the Pennsylvania Turnpike to observe a state police test of radar and came back with an observation that the electronic device is unsatisfactory in heavy traffic.

O. D. Shipley, director of the Bureau of Highway Safety, continues to plug for radar among other lawmakers who are studying the problem with a view of reporting their findings to the 1959 Legislature.

The 159 daily newspapers in Pennsylvania are currently on the receiving end of a plaudit from House Speaker W. Stuart Helm (R-Armstrong).

Helm, mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor next year, gave each newspaper what he called a "certificate of recognition and appreciation" for "devotion to the truth."

He praised the newspaper for "finding the middle ground above the hue and cry of partisanship."

The action is reminiscent of the telegram Gov. Leader sent to all newspapers on the day after he was elected in November, 1954. It thanked the publications for their coverage of the campaign.

Chief County Assessor E. P. Whitby of Schuylkill County recently dug into the county's archaic occupational tax structure with a view of revamping it.

He found that the assessment base ranged from $30 for laborers to $300 for judges.

But there was a $200 category in which none of the country's taxpayers was listed. It was the category of "gentlemen."

TODAY is pay day for all who have classified ads.

WILDLIFE NOTES

Deer Feed Well Near Philadelphia—On July 21 a lady living in Abington Township, Montgomery county, complained to Game Protector Donald Croft that deer were ruining her small truck patch. "On the previous night," says Croft, "the lady counted 42 of the animals in her garden. This would not be so unusual in real deer country, but Abington Township is less than 15 square miles, and the human population numbers over 30,000. At the right time a person can count, in one locality in the Township, between 60 and 80 deer in less than one hour."

Research Chief Chosen — The Game Commission has named Glenn L. Bowers as its Chief of the Division of Research. The appointee replaces Roger M. Latham, who recently left the agency to become the outdoor editor of The Pittsburgh Press.

The new research head is a native of York, Pa. His employment by the Commission, as a field biologist, began August 16, 1948. Wildlife studies he has conducted since then have been on cottontail rabbit management, the results of cottontail trapping and transfer, and the evaluation of habitat and food and cover development for wildlife. He was working on the last named study at the time of his appointment.

Mr. Bowers obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in zoology and entomology at The Pennsylvania State University in 1946. He received his Master's degree in Wildlife Management at Penn State in 1948.

From 1942 to 1945 the Research Chief was a Captain in the U. S. Marine Corps. Mr. Bowers is married and the father of two children. The family is presently living in Shippensburg, Pa.

Quail Report Encourages—"The quail population in the part of York County I service seems to be higher this summer than it has been for years," reports Game Protector Earl Gessaman. "The call 'Bob White' can be heard in all parts of the district. The quail we stocked last year have remained in the areas where they were liberated. From the number of calls being heard it appears that most of these birds survived the winter."

Sheffield Woman's Club Opens Season

Sheffield—Members of Sheffield Woman's Club enjoyed a one o'clock luncheon Monday at Blarney cottage, with Mrs. J. M. O'Connor as hostess, to inaugurate its new fall season. In addition to 20 members present, there were two guests, Mrs. J. W. Dodds and Mrs. Taylor.

Presenting a resume for coming months, the program chairman, Mrs. C. H. Whittaker, announced the September meeting at the home of Mrs. E. J. Hoyer at Barnes; Northwest District meeting in Titusville September 18; Warren County Federation meeting, with Warren Blue Stocking Club as hostess, October 4; Clubs' Night November 4. There will be 12 regular meetings, with the final gathering a picnic at Pinecrest Camp.

Serving on Monday's luncheon committee were Mrs. E. R. Ayres, Mrs. A. S. Brown, Mrs. William Christenson, Sr., Mrs. Harold Stover, Mrs. Laurence Stotz, and Mrs. C. H. Whittaker.

August meeting of Garden Club was held at the home of Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor Wednesday afternoon, with 20 members and three guests, Mrs. Agnes Whyte, Mrs. James Marley, and Mrs. Taylor. Mrs. George Conquer had members bring unusual plants they had grown. The contest was won by Mrs. Harry Priset, and the white mule was won by Mrs. Frank Byrne. Retta Pinney, president, conducted meeting, and lists of flowers for Spring planting were given for ordering at the next meeting, at the home of Mrs. Joseph Curtin, Barnes. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Helen Roberts, and Mrs. J. C. Keller.

Jerry Carr, U.S.N. stationed at Charleston, S. C., and Sally Campbell, Washington, D. C., spent the past week with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Carr. They returned Friday, and Mrs. Carr accompanying them to Washington and Charleston.

News of Interest About the Oberammergau Passion Play, Beaty School Sept. 8-9-10

(Part One)
Production Originated in 1634
The lights go out. The sudden darkness is drama itself. The music stops. On the stage of Beaty Auditorium, the world-famed Oberammergau Passion Play will be under way for its premier performance in Warren. The hushed expectant moment is so still you could hear a star fall.

Then a soft blue light begins to appear across the stage. Shepherds are starting to the fields, droves appear, maidens with jars on their shoulders go to the common well for water. Dawn is breaking on a street in Jerusalem. Another performance of the famed Oberammergau Passion Play has begun, this time in Warren.

This is said to be the most important Passion Play in the world. The Oberammergau version originated at Oberammergau, Bavaria, presented as early as 1634 by the villagers, assisted by the clergy as a reverent religious vow. Gradually it was taken over by the people of the village, the parts being traditionally given by the committee to those best fitted. The dialogue changed from Latin to Low German.

The Christus of today and the head of the players is Val Balfour, who represents the fourth generation of his family to play in Biblical dramas. He has made a fine translation of the simple Biblical dialogue into English, and is director and "father" to the cast, as well as portraying the leading role magnificently.

Mr. Balfour is a gentleman, much beloved by everybody who works with him. His associates think that some of the qualities of his role carry over into his daily life, making him considerate and kind and good in the way Jesus was. He does not look like Christ when he wears street clothes, but when he is in the part of Jesus he changes remarkably into the very semblance of the man of Galilee. He is not really gaunt, nor does his face have the angles of Christ, yet when he hangs on the Cross his body seems bony with agony and his face is the face on the crucifix.

2,000,000 Disabled Veterans To Benefit By Bill Just Signed

Washington, D.C. — President Eisenhower has signed a bill hiking monthly payments to about two million veterans with disabilities from service.

The increases, effective Oct. 1, range up to nearly 25 per cent in the case of veterans who are totally and permanently disabled, but rise will be about 10 per cent for most veterans getting the higher payments.

The cost to the government is estimated at nearly 167 million dollars for the first year.

In a statement, Eisenhower said he was signing the bill even though he felt it "inadequately compensates some veterans with more serious service connected disabilities while providing at the same time more than necessary increases to others."

"I have signed the measure notwithstanding these defects," he added, "because my refusal to do so would deprive veterans with service connected disabilities a group which merits our particular concern of any adjustments in their compensations."

County Group Enjoys Island Park Outing

Youngsville — Warren Court House Annex employees and their families enjoyed a picnic at Island Park Monday evening. There were 40 in attendance and all had such a good time they hope to have another next year. Baseball and horseshoes were played, and an informal time of "just talking" enjoyed.

Lady Gray Rebekah Lodge No. 38 will meet at 8:00 p. m. September 4 and all are asked to turn out for nomination of officers.

Susan Lowe, Sheffield, has been spending a week with her aunt, Mrs. Ora Schell. Guest for several days last week was Mrs. Bernice Greenlee, Erie.

Mrs. H. W. Jacobson, who recently sold her home in Warren, is spending a few days here with Kathryn Agnew before going to Los Angeles, Calif., to make her home with her daughter, Martha Jacobson.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Arnold are parents of a daughter born Aug. 26.

All Amateurs in the Area Are Cordially Invited To Exhibit At Warren Fall Flower Show

No entry charge for exhibitors and no admission charge for the public make a real community event of the Fall Flower Show next Thursday, September 5, at the Woman's Club Auditorium, 310 Market street, and every amateur in this entire area of Pennsylvania and New York is urged to bring not only flowers but also fruits and vegetables. Bring them before 10 Thursday morning. Then come and see the show in all its beauty from 2 that afternoon to 10. Newspapers and garden clubs in Jamestown, Titusville, Bradford, Tidoute, Sheffield, Youngsville, as well as Warren, have been cooperating. The Warren Garden club enthusiastically endorses the show. Stores throughout the county are boasting posters giving the classifications for annuals, perennials, potted plants, flower arrangements, fruits and vegetables. Many a Warren merchant willingly helps by showing this yellow poster in his store window.

"We appreciate the merchants' help in this community project," says Mrs. Robert Voigt, chairman. "It's a wonderful thing for a community to have a Flower Show," adds Howard Lemmon of United Cigar store. "I used to help with the Warren National Bank shows when I was a kid. Hundreds of entries they had. Took us until midnight to clean up afterwards. I'll put the poster right here on my front door."

Heads of committees working on the show include: Staging—Mrs. Henry Lanman, Mrs. Albert Eberly, Mrs. Melvin Keller; admissions—Mrs. Harold Banghart, Mrs. David Beatty; horticulture, Mrs. Harold Elair; miniatures, Mrs. Frank Perrin; properties, Mrs. E. G. Hamilton; arrangements, Mrs. Robert Kopf; publicity, Mrs. Margaret Wright, Mrs. Robert Israel, Mrs. John O'Hara; Garden Clubs, Mrs. Charles Tranter; vases sale, Mrs. Raymond Steber; securing judges, Mrs. J. W. A. Luce and Mrs. A. R. Wheeler of West Hickory.

The committee is hoping for a large number of entries in the religious theme arrangement; there has been wide interest in the odd container class.

Baptismal Service Held on Cross Farm

Cole Hill—Baptismal services of Tidoute Baptist church were held Sunday afternoon on the Charles Cross farm along the Allegheny River, two miles east of Tidoute, with about 50 attending.

Candidates for baptism were Mrs. Dale Storer, Wilma and Doris Wentworth, Lois Eastman, Sharon and Milton Armitage, Mrs. Shirley McKay and Mrs. Snyder.

The service was conducted by the Rev. Wilson Armitage, assisted by Kenneth White. Rev. Armitage had the privilege of baptizing his son and daughter; oldest candidate was 68, the youngest was 12. Special music was a song, "Beneath the Cross."

During the Warren County 4-H Club Roundup at Eisenhower School, Mrs. Lillian Camp received a certificate for 10 years of service as leader of the Garland Club. Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Benedict and family, with Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Obrian of Youngsville, attended the Aero Supply Company when about 200 were present. Games were enjoyed and all picnic details were free.

Visitors at the Laverne Benedict home have been Mr. and Mrs. Robert Green and family, Erie; John Bosko, Ravenna, Ohio.

Farmers on Davy Hill extend their thanks to all who helped clean up around the Davy Hill cemetery.

Youngsville Ladies' Bowling League met Monday night at Mrs. John Zolko's at Torpedo.

The Zolko family attended the picnic held by Garland Volunteer Fire Department at Jim Stewart's grove at Spring Creek Sunday. Games were played to insure all a good time.

YOU "CAN" TAKE IT WITH YOU:

Labor Day has always been, to us, a misnomer. That is one day of the year on which the fewest possible number of Americans is required to toil. Not only that, but it has become not merely a day, but a week-end, and a long one at that.

So what happens? We take to our fifty-some million cars to hie us to some sylvan dell or meadow or woods, to mountain or lake or stream or beach. And, what with the need for sustenance and refreshment, smokes and snacks, we create mountains of trash.

As we start back to the salt mines on the Tuesday morning-after, highway workers on our primary roads alone will expect to be facing 100,000 tons of this litter that must be picked up and disposed of. This much trash, in case you can't quite visualize it, would cover a two-lane highway a foot deep from Chicago to Minneapolis, and that's 427 miles! Also, around the 48 states, a lot of care-free week-enders, apprehended while tossing this and that out of the car window, will be facing the judge. They will be leaving as little as a dollar, in Kentucky, or as much as $1,000 in Georgia to purge their disrespect for their fellow man. Utah, for example, is very specific about this offense against good manners. The sign at the roadside says simply: "$299 for littering highways". And practically nobody seems to think it is a bargain.

But there's a brighter side to the picture. For every offender, a hundred, or perhaps a thousand, more thoughtful citizens will be collecting their trash in litterbags as they go along, and parking it in suitable receptacles as provided by public-spirited gas stations, picnic areas, resorts and roadside rests.

In spite of steadily increasing highway travel, the clean-up cost to the taxpayer has been halted at the $50 million a year level, and appears to be gradually diminishing. Credit for this, we think, belongs largely to an organization called "Keep America Beautiful, Inc." and to the garden clubs and many other civic organizations that have joined its nation-wide crusade against the litterbug, and have supported local and state enforcement agencies in a tougher attitude toward the trash-tossers.

Thus we can hope for the cleanest Labor Day yet. Remember your litterbag and remember the KAB slogan: "You CAN Take It With You!"

THE SIGNS

From the editorial column of The New York Times: Back in the hush there's talk of an early fall this year. There was an early spring, they say, even fog in February. And February fog, they say, means frost no later than the first of September. Then there were the katydids, who were out early, just past the middle of July. Count six weeks from then and you come to the first week in September. So there's more evidence for those who want it, if you can call a katydid evidence.

There's no denying that cold Canadian air has crept down with its n'ght chill somewhat earlier than usual. And it has kept coming. That, on top of the dry summer, has brought many of the aspects of early autumn several weeks earlier than usual. Woodbine here and there is already turning, with a flash of scarlet like a warning signal. It's hard to tell whether the yellow touch in hails de birch groves is a sign of drought or a touch of premature fall, but when ash trees around a brook's still flowing begin to show a turn toward gold you can't believe the drought alone is responsible. And the wild grapes are ripening earlier than usual.

Most of these are equivocal signs, but when the birds begin to gather in big flocks and show signs of restlessness, something is in the air, something more than late August. Those flocks are the kind that gather soon before migration. Maybe the birds, too, see signs and feel portents. Maybe they, too, are discussing the weather. What happens, as the pundits say, remains to be seen. But don't be surprised if October comes early, soon after August.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But this shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel, After those days, saith the Lord I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, and will be their God, and they shall be my people.—Jeremiah 31:33.

Such was God's original love for man, that He was willing to stoop to any sacrifice to save him, and the gift of a Saviour was the mere expression of that love.—Albert Barnes.

Here and There

An exciting event in Warren seventy years ago this week, according to an article in The Mirror of August 29, 1887, was "The Fourth Annual Fair," mention of which was made in the following article: "The driving park today presented a lively spectacle. Early this morning the stags and stipes flattered from the tall pole in the bull ring, and soon afterwards the colors were displayed over the secretary's office. Everything bids fair for the largest crowds and the biggest year that have ever been seen here. Already the horse stalls are well filled with fine stock, and if the entries continue to come in at the rate they have thus far every stall will be crowded. The cattle pens also promise to be taxed to their utmost capacity. The displays in the halls also promise to be very fine. Most of our local business establishments will make exhibits, and many manufacturers from out of town will display their wares. Never before at this stage of the proceedings have there been so many entries in all departments as are now recorded and never before in the history of the association has there been such a demand for locations made by various hucksters and amusement managers. The zoological collection no doubt will arrive tomorrow, and of course the main part of the entries will be made on that date. Governor Beaver and staff will arrive in town on Wednesday, and will visit the exposition on Thursday, which will probably be the biggest day of the fair, although every day is expected to be a big one. The ladies of the Baptist church will operate a lunch room on the grounds again this year, and the ladies of the Methodist church are busy preparing their dining room for business. A steam motor for travel on the road is to be put on exhibition. All the noted race horses within a radius of fifty miles and many from farther away are entered in the races."

It is not too early to start planning flaming foliage tours in Pennsylvania, particularly since

Herter's Half-Year Score Is Record for "No Boo-Boos"

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Christian Herter has now been under-secretary of state for six months without making a visible boo-boo. When John Foster Dulles is out of town, Herter automatically becomes acting secretary of state, a situation which has existed a total of nearly two months during the last six.

If Herter's performance so far doesn't set some kind of boo-booless record in this important job, it at least justifies the confidence he has in the tall, serious, slightly stooped Bostonian.

Herter's half year on the U.S. payroll found him immediately thrust into the Mid-East crisis. He has had to field many of the foul balls the Russians have been hitting at the disarmament talks in London. For the last several weeks he has been inundated with the problems of trying to help the President's foreign aid requests through Congress.

HE HAS BOTTLED himself astonishingly fast on practically all of America's complex foreign relations problems. He has won the growing confidence of Dulles and the President. He has improved the general mood of the State Department. And he has proved himself an excellent administrator.

Except for one detail, the net effect of his performance would be to enhance his chances for the GOP vice presidential or presidential nominations in 1960. That missing detail is the fact that Herter has become so immersed in his work that he has completely ignored his own political future.

Herter was a U.S. congressman from Massachusetts and a governor of that state. After this experience certain political gestures almost become instinctive to a man still in public life. You keep up your political contacts. You make speeches before the right groups. You keep informed about what's going on politically.

Herter has done none of those things, to the disappointment of the men who seek to push him on to greater things.

THE ONE BIG reservation about Herter, which even his most ardent fans shared when he took the job at State, was his health. He has suffered from arthritis, the cause of his slight stoop. His doctors believed it was arrested but there was a serious question of whether his arduous new job might cause a recurrence.

This reservation on Herter's future has now been practically eliminated by the way he has held up and adjusted to the physical demands of the job. He makes it a point never to stand up more than 15 minutes at a time when he attends some embassy reception or party, his only concession to the ailment.

The demands of the job force him to average at least two or three such affairs per week. But he's relaxed about his enforced social activity and even seems to enjoy it. When the strain catches up or a touch of the old arthritis threatens, he'll just pop an aspirin in his mouth.

When Dulles is in town Herter's schedule is from 8:30 in the morning to about 6:30 in the evening. When Dulles is gone, he is seldom able to leave the office until after 8.

ALSO WHEN DULLES is out of town, Herter is on the telephone several times a day with the President, in addition to his regular sessions in his office. When a crisis is on deck, Herter and Ike will have phone conferences after dinner.

Generally, Herter seems to be more at home in the State Department atmosphere than his predecessor, Herbert Hoover Jr. Herter is basically a friendly man, although he tends to be solemn and reserved. He is deliberate and sometimes even cautious about making important decisions or declarations. This attitude is in the tradition of the State Department.

Matter Of Fact:

The German Miracle

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Boon, Germany—The currency crisis in France and Britain, with its resulting pressure on Germans to revalue their mark upwards, is an amazing sign of the times. Serious as the crisis seems, moreover, it is far less fundamentally significant than the development it has dramatized.

This development is nothing more nor less than the re-emergence of so-lately ruined Germany as a major power in the world. The excessive strength of the German mark on the world markets, the increasing weakness of British sterling and the French franc are symbols of a radical change in all the power relationships on this side of the Atlantic Ocean.

No adjectives seem adequate to describe the change in Germany which has produced this change in power relationships. When this reporter was last here, five years ago, the rubble had been tidied. Production had begun again. Chancellor Konrad Adenauer had established a respected government. But the occupation had not yet been liquidated. Defeated Germany was still in bonds. The High Commissioners of the victorious Allies were still playing at being viceroys.

A healthy, independent Germany then seemed possible and even highly likely. But nothing seemed more absolutely beyond the bounds of possibility than Germany's re-emergence as the real heavyweight in the world balance of power.

The figures tell the story in their blunt, bleak way. Starting with nothing, the German Treasury now has total reserves above five million dollars, of which more than three and a half billion are in hard currency. Last year Germany enjoyed a favorable trade

The first questions one naturally asks is simply: "How have the Germans done it?" The answer seems to lie in a combination of three factors.

There is the government of Konrad Adenauer, with its toughly conservative economic policies. There is the German trades union leadership, haunted by the ugly memory of past inflations, and aware that living standards must only rise as output rises. And there are the exceptionally able leaders of Germany's enterprises, like Chancellor Adenauer's friend, the banker Hermann Abs, the manager of the Krupp empire, Berthold Beitz, and the extraordinary head of the Volkswagen factory, Dr. Heinrich Nordhoff.

Between these three groups, plus the habitually industrious German people, the credit must be shared.

JIMMY TAKES A BREAK—During lunch recess of the Senate Labor Rackets Committee hearing in Washington, Teamster Vice President James R. Hoffa sits in Capitol Plaza. Behind Hoffa, who aspires to the Teamster presidency, is his union's beautiful headquarters building.

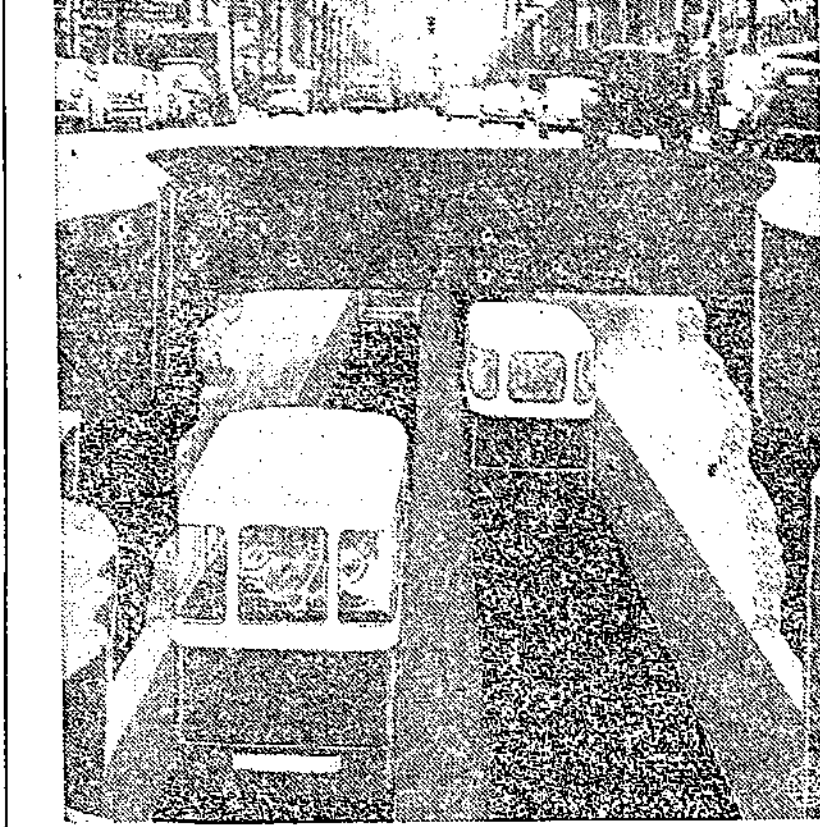

But there is still another, deeper question that one must also ask about Germany's regained weight in the world balance. It is the question: "How will the Germans use this weight, by throwing it about for their own temporary aggrandizement, or for more permanent, constructive purposes?"

With Germany quite likely to supersede Britain as the third power in the world and the second power in the West, this last question has profound importance. As yet, curiously enough, it is not a question that any but a tiny minority of Germans have asked themselves. They have been absorbed in the reconstruction of their own country. They have had no time to think of anything except their own growing prosperity.

But as the example of America plainly proves, national weight and national power can never remain permanently uncommitted, simply because the nation having weight and power would prefer not to commit itself in the world arena. Eventually weight and power are always made to count, somehow or other.

But how will the new Germany weight and power be made to count? The final answer, in this reporter's opinion, is the direct responsibility of the United States. The new Germany is Europe-minded, and even minded to form an increasingly intimate partnership with her traditional enemy, France. If the United States takes the steps that are now needed to strengthen and restore the Western Alliance, then this new Europe-minded German power will remain firmly within the Western Alliance. And it will provide a great accession of Western health and strength.

But if the United States flaccidly permits the Western Alliance to become a mere empty facade (and this is why the responsibility is almost wholly American) then the new Germany will join the general game of "Save yourself and the devil take the hindmost." And after that, almost anything can happen.

"FAR FROM THE MADDING CROWD"—That's what this planned transportation system is intended to do for the person making his way about a crowded center of a city. This artist's conception shows what a "Carveyor" would look like under a Washington, D.C., street. The small passenger cars travel on flat conveyor belts. The passenger boarding a car merely steps onto a loading belt going 1½ m.p.h., same speed as the cars. After loading, the cars, which never stop, pick up to 15 m.p.h. Developed by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Stephens-Adams Mfg. Co., the system is designed to ease the transportation problem in crowded city centers.

Olean Bride Known Here

Lola Jayne Surube, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Struble of Bradford, formerly of Olean and Warren, became the bride of William Hedley Brook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hedley Brook of Olean, on Saturday afternoon in Olean's First Methodist church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Herbert Harrison, pastor, who was assisted by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Gale W. Cook, Falconer, N. Y. Methodist church. Susan Hall was vocalist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore white tulle taffeta, and re-embroidered Alencon lace. Her Angelina veil of imported French silk illusion fell from a bandeau of the same lace and her cascade bouquet was of Fuji mums and ivy.

Attendants were the maid of honor, Barbara Menthew of Olean in a ballerina princess gown of raspberry silk tulle with mauve drapes, bridesmaids in mauve with raspberry accents. Mrs. Loren Draen, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Howard Farrow, Corning, Dorothy Pollock, Rochester. Each had a train of ivy and carried a cascade of mauve and pink frosted grapes. Junior bridesmaids were the brides' cousins, Toni and Cathy Cook wearing pink and white dotted Swiss and carrying baskets of pink grapes and stelia. Stelia headbands matched their frocks. John E. Brook was best man; ushers were Edward K. McElwain, Warren; Dale L. Brook and Loren Draen.

The reception followed in the church Fellowship Hall, the 250 guests including a number from Warren. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Larue Finnefrock Kane, aunt of the bride.

The newweds will live at 434 1/2 South Walnut street, Bryan O., where the bride graduate of Olean High and Albany State Teachers' College, will be teaching school. Also an OHS alumnus, Mr. Brook is attending Tri-State University, Angola, Ind.

Among many pre-nuptial affairs were a shower given by Mrs. Glenn Elliott and Mrs. Ralph Theodore, Warren, a brunch given by Mrs. Robert Russell of Bradford, formerly of Clatenden.

The Mature Parent

Who Says 6-Year-Olds Won't Enjoy First Days at School?

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

YOUR six-year-old is going to enjoy the first grade.

At least this is the big probability, according to psychologists. Delia B. Stendler and Norman Young, with 212 mothers of six-year-olds, they have completed a study of youngsters' response to the first grade which gives us a portrait of the school-entering child that bears no resemblance to our popular impression of him as resisting and difficult.

Most of the children studied not only enjoyed school once they'd entered it—but had looked forward to entering it with the liveliest anticipation. Typical reports from their mothers are: "He was aching to go. He could hardly wait. Loves his teacher. . . . Crazy about school—wants to go on Saturdays and Sundays. . . ."

EVEN more encouraging, the children's home behavior was improved by first grade experience. Within two months of entrance, their mothers reported marked improvement in their ability to dress themselves, to entertain friends, go on errands and help around the house.

Where have we got our impression of the school-entering child as resisting and difficult? Well, for some time now, certain child development "experts" have been promoting the age of six as the age of resistance. From "six," they say, we must expect stubbornness. As this is the age of the school-entering child, perhaps our idea of him as a terrible problem is the fabrication of these "experts"—and is, in actual fact—as weightless as one of their own paper charts.

At any rate, if you have a school-entering child, try not to expect resistance from him.

For when you do expect it from him, you suggest it to him. Your fear of his school resistance will create the resistance in him. He'll know that you don't expect him to like school.

Then inevitably he begins to figure like this: "If this experienced parent of mine doubts that I'll like school, there must be something about school that justifies this doubt of hers. It must be a bad place. Why does she send me to a bad place? Maybe she doesn't love me any more and I cannot trust her. . . ."

It's these thoughts—not the calendar age of six years—that makes the school-entering child resisting and difficult.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES T. MAHOOD

Clarendon Methodist church was the scene of the August 24 wedding of Ruth Anne Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cunningham, of Clarendon, who became the bride of James T. Mahood, son of Mrs. Mary Alice Moylan, also of Clarendon.

The seven o'clock double ring ceremony was performed by candlelight, the Rev. Hubert F. Jicha officiating before an altar decorated with white glads and pom poms, with palms. Organ selections were played by Jane Nelson, Clarendon, with Kenneth Bliss singing "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in white lace, with an elbow length veil, and carried a Bible topped with a white orchid and baby's breath.

Carolyn Garber was maid of honor in yellow taffeta and Mary Ann Watt was bridesmaid, wearing green taffeta. Flower girl was Bonny Davidson, who wore white lace, with a white bonnet to match the bride's gown.

Charles Bish, of Erie, was best man. Ushering were Bob Jones, Erie, and Lloyd Talbott, Meadville; Ronny Christensen, Clarendon, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose dusky pink with blue accessories and the bridegroom's mother selected navy blue, each with a white corsage. The bridegroom's grand mother, Mrs. Ansell, appeared in pink, with white accessories and a white corsage.

A reception for 126 guests was held at the home of the bride, when yellow and white decorations were featured. Aides were Nancy Blomquist, who served the cake; Susan Clepper, pouring, and Nancy Gadsby, who managed the guest book.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Lyons, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Rickel, Mr. and Mrs. John Bish, Ray Whitmore and Mrs. Lloyd Talbott, Meadville.

For a wedding trip to Chicago, the bride selected a blue and white suit, with white accessories. They will be at home September 1.

Mrs. Peter Yagge and Mary Ann Watt gave pre-nuptial parties for the bride.

AUXILIARY MEETING

Sugar Grove — Rose Falconer conducted the regular meeting of the Legion Auxiliary, with 12 members present. Following discussion, it was voted the group will attempt to raise the insurance premium money for 1958 by projects, instead of raising dues. It was voted to give a cash gift to Mr. and Mrs. Rawlings for their golden anniversary.

Male Reader Seeks Answers To Questions About Women

"WHY is it," asks a man who says he always reads this column during his lunch hour, "that a woman..."

"Will take at least 15 or 20 minutes to lead up to her reason for making a telephone call to another woman? Do women actually consider it bad manners to come right to the point when making a telephone call?"

"Will claim she hasn't a thing to wear when her closet is full of clothes, yet figure her husband ought to be pleased to wear his three-year-old blue suit and tell her how thoughtful she was to get it cleaned and pressed?"

"Never seems to mind having her husband comment on another woman's intelligence—unless the woman also happens to be good looking?"

"Always has to change her clothes before she can leave the house?"

"Hasn't the vaguest idea of what a minute is? When she says, 'I'll only be a minute,' she probably has in mind that she won't be gone longer than an hour."

CORRECTS HIM

"I determined that she and her husband will never be the first to arrive anywhere? Since somebody has to be the first to arrive at any party, why is every woman determined it isn't going to be she and her husband?"

"Gets such a sense of accomplishment about just talking about reducing? It would seem to a mere man that what counts in dieting is the pounds lost. But women seem to get a noble feeling just from letting everyone know they are on a diet."

"Thinks that marriage gives a woman the right to correct her husband and that when her memory of just how a thing happened doesn't jibe with his, his memory is bound to be at fault?"

Care to try to answer this man's questions, any of you women readers?

There is quite an art to false-carding and no one is better at it than Larceny Lou. Today's hand shows him at his best or worst, depending on whether you sympathize with his victims or approve his successes.

North's jump to three no-trump was slightly optimistic. He did hold 10 points but his hand was flat. However, Larceny Lou's partners are inclined to overbid because they rely on him to make every trick possible.

West opened the king of hearts. Lou looked over dummy carefully before playing to the first trick and noted that he had little play for nine tricks.

He counted one spade, one heart, two diamonds and four clubs. The only real hope for a ninth trick was the jack of hearts and obviously West sat in back of it with the queen, ten and others. Maybe West could be persuaded to continue the suit.

Now that his plan of campaign was completed, Lou played the four from dummy. East dropped the nine and Lou played the deuce!

This play represented false-carding at its best. Lou had pulled a double-cross and had not false-carded at all. Ninety-nine per cent of bridge players would have dropped the seven spot.

West studied the play. His partner's nine could have been a singleton; it also could have been from jack-nine-seven or even ace-nine-seven. Finally West decided that Lou would never have played the deuce if he held the seven. Hence, East's nine spot play had been a come-on. West played a second heart and Lou had his ninth trick.

Date Is Advanced For Golf Windup

Women golfers of Conewango Valley Country Club will conclude their 1957 summer season on Wednesday, September 18, according to announcement made by Mrs. Wallace Sedwick, chairman of the ladies' activities this year.

The windup event, advanced from the original date set, will be in the form of the traditional tournament, dinner and presentation of awards. Because of the unusual interest being shown in women's golf this summer, it is expected the turnout will be even larger than in previous seasons.

In this week's regular match, Mrs. Homer Culbertson had low gross for the field with an 85 and also won first low net. Winners of the day's event were Mrs. S. W. Blackman in Division One, Mrs. Jerald Angove and Mrs. Harry Schmidt in second and third sections.

Mrs. Blackman had second low net for the first division; Mrs. Marion Pettigrew and Mrs. James Kanner, Division Two; Mrs. Harry Schmidt and Mrs. Scott Calderwood, Division Three.

A Kicker's Handicap Tournament will be the event for next week.

GRANGE BENEFIT

Corydon—Mrs. G. A. Prue was hostess for a benefit Grange party with four tables of five hundred in play and awards given as follows: Roy Bennett and Mrs. Hazel Benton, high; Mrs. Cynthia Prue and O. A. Benton, second. Refreshments concluded the affair and it was announced Mrs. Lida Wilcox will be the next hostess.

Others present were Mrs. Beulah Olsen, Mrs. Irene Zamere, Onoville; Mrs. Grace Homer, Oil City; Mrs. Jessie Bennett, Mrs. Lida Wilcox, Mrs. Ora Carnahan, Mrs. Revie Luce, Mrs. Lottie Whyte and Mrs. GlenDine LaDow.

Betrothals

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Lord, formerly of Warren and now residents of Bradford, wish to announce the engagement and coming marriage of their daughter, Mary Kay, of Miami, Fla., to Gary Lee Curtis, also of Miami. The wedding will take place, August 30, in Miami.

Titusville Sylvania Plant Rejects IAM by 2 Votes

For the 11th time in 14 elections, Sylvania Electric employees have rejected unionization.

Yesterday at Titusville, Sylvania employees voted to stay non-union by two votes. Ballot was 116 against, 114 for.

A running account of the election was kept over the plant communications systems and much excitement generated as the votes were tied 25 times.

Another election cannot take place for a year. Ballot choice was between non-union, the International Association of Machinists (IAM) and International Union of Electrical Radio and Machine Workers (IUE). The latter received no votes at all having asked late to be put on the ballot and then dropping out.

Funeral Information Will Be Found Under Another Heading

REV. M. I. HARDING—The Rev. Miller I. Harding, former pastor of the Epworth and Stoneham Methodist churches here, died last evening in DuBois Hospital at the age of 72 years.

Mr. Harding, long-time member of the Methodist Brie Conference, had served a number of pastorates in the area prior to his retirement. A former resident of Brockway, he was living at Pleasantville at the time of his death.

Surviving are his wife, Anna Kearney Harding; two children, Mrs. John Brooks, Warren, and Mrs. Jerry J. Miller, Garden City, Mich.; also three grandchildren; three brothers and three sisters. Friends are being received at a Brockway funeral home, but arrangements for services are still incomplete and will be announced tomorrow.

GUSTAF A. LUND

Jamestown Sun: Gustaf A. Lund, 82, of 118 Arlington Avenue, one of the founders of Alliance Furniture Company, died at the Jamestown General Hospital at 4 P. M. Wednesday, after a brief illness. Mr. Lund was born in Jonkoping, Sweden, Aug. 19, 1875. He emigrated to this country at the age of 17, locating in Jamestown where he has resided since.

He was united in marriage to Augusta A. Treff in 1901, the ceremony taking place in the bride's home, 11 Eagle street. Theirs was the first marriage performed by the Rev. E. G. Hjerpe. The 50th wedding anniversary was celebrated in the First Mission Covenant Church Parish House in 1951 at a memorable reception.

Mr. Lund was one of the founders of the Alliance Furniture Company and was president of that concern until his retirement approximately 10 years ago. He was on the original board of the Union Rescue Mission and had taken a very active interest in its work.

FRED J. HONHART

Fred J. Honhart of 117 Frank street, born in Warren on December 25, 1874, and lifelong resident of the community, died at 7:30 a. m. Wednesday at the age of 82 years. He was a social member of the Vets Club.

Surviving are the following children: Mrs. Evelyn Sulo, Warren; J. C. Honhart, Birmingham, Mich.; Louis Honhart, Drayton Plains, Mich.; Mrs. Floyd Eckman, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Louis King, North East; Mrs. Edna Shanklin, Phoenix, Ariz.; and Mrs. Hazel Feidler, Sheffield; also several grandchildren and great-grandchildren; two brothers and three sisters, R. E. Honhart, Jamestown, N. Y.; E. W. Honhart, Mrs. Lydia Highhouse and Mrs. Alice Hartman, Warren; Mrs. Esther Smith, in Florida.

The Rev. V. T. Benson, assistant pastor of First Lutheran church, will conduct funeral services at 2:00 p. m. Saturday and interment will be made in the Gross cemetery in Conewango township.

MRS. ALICE M. MORRIS

Mrs. Alice McCrea Morris, 125 Onondaga avenue, died suddenly at her home at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday at the age of 76 years.

Mrs. Morris was born October 14, 1880, at Eagle Rock, Pa., and lived in Tionesta before coming to Warren a year and a half ago. She was retired after teaching school in both Tionesta and Oil City and attended the Tionesta Methodist church.

Preceded in death by her husband, Ralph Morris, in 1953, she leaves three sisters and one brother. Mrs. Pauline Richards, Warren; Mrs. Lillian Lane, Oil City; Mrs. Grace Wolfe, Cincinnati, O.; Lawrence McCrea, Brea, Calif.

Funeral services will be held in Tionesta at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, the Rev. Thomas Dusch, of the Methodist church, officiating and interment following in Mt. Collins cemetery.

SCOTT J. VAN GIESEN

Word has been received here of the Wednesday morning death in Westfield, N. Y., of Scott J. Van Giesen, whose wife is well known in this area and was formerly employed at Warren State Hospital.

Surviving are his wife, Gladys Woodin Van Giesen, and two sons, Scott, Jr., aged 15, and Jimmy, seven.

Funeral services will be held in Westfield at 2:30 p. m. Friday.

TV CHANGES

Pittsburgh (P) — Pittsburgh will lose a ultra high frequency television UHF station Saturday and gain a very high frequency (VHF) station Sunday. Station WENS, operating on Channel 16 since Aug. 1953, has said it will stop telecasting Saturday. The next day, station WHIC will begin telecasts on Channel 11.

EAST STREET ELIMINATED

Pottstown (P) — Some residents of nearby North Coventry township awoke this morning to find they no longer live on Easy street. The township road supervisors last night changed the name to Creek Road.

Rural Communities Boost Fund Drive

Youngsville businessmen gave a boost to the Warren County Development Association's drive for $8,000 by contributing their quota of $300 toward the campaign goal. E. Leo Johnson reported success of the Youngsville drive at a report meeting yesterday afternoon.

Tidioute borough also met its quota of $150 through efforts of the Tidioute Chamber of Commerce while Sheffield likewise reached its goal of $200 thanks to its Chamber of Commerce.

Donald E. Conaway, local drive chairman, reported a total of $4,295 has been pledged so far toward the goal with many solicitors not yet reporting. He asks that all workers in the retail division complete their calls this week and turn in returns to the Chamber office.

Meanwhile, Arthur D. Little Co. has started its work in the county and has been collecting data which will be used in the economic and industrial survey. It will take about two months to collect the necessary information and another three months before the studies and evaluations can be completed.

FIRE CALL

Borough firemen rolled to the home of State Trooper William Timmons about 11 a. m. today after a short-circuit occurred in the freezer. The chest was carried on to the porch of the dwelling near Home and Garden shop, Pennsylvania avenue east.

FIVE EMERGENCIES

John Roberts, 28 Locust street, received emergency treatment at Warren General Hospital Wednesday for a laceration of the right eyelid. Also treated were Milburn Beer, 10 Church street, Sheffield, for lacerations of the third and fourth left fingers; David Lundahl, 9 Redwood street, laceration of forehead; Harry Speidel, 203 Connecticut avenue, puncture

MUST TREAT WASTE

Industrial Oil Corporation in Mead Township is one of 43 western Pennsylvania industrial plants which have been ordered to have waste treatment facilities in operation by next July 1. The action followed another board directive to 53 municipalities to build sewage treatment plants and have them in operation by July, 1958. Other industrial plants in this area ordered to treat waste include Tionesta Sand and Gravel, Inc. in Tionesta Township, Forest County.

Proclaims Passion Play Days

It is well to pause and remember that there is nothing new about the problems of the present day. Events at the time seemingly threatening are the history of the human race.

Two thousand years ago the Humble Nazarene, inspired by the deep understanding of the eternal verities of being, said, "In the world ye shall have tribulations, but be of good cheer, I have overcome the world." Throughout these two thousand years of life, the teachings of this Man have been a source of inspiration and comfort, have kept the flame, the beacon of light of faith and hope; have pointed the way to peace in the midst of disaster, want and woe. The story of His life, His betrayal and agony, His supreme triumph over the forces of evil, even the last enemy itself, the truth He lived and represented, cannot too often be brought before us, cannot too indelibly be imprinted upon our hearts and minds.

Starting Sunday afternoon at 2:15, September 8th through the 10th, the original authentic English-spoken version of the Oberammergau Passion Play as performed at Oberammergau, Bavaria for over 325 years will be presented in the Beatty Junior High School Auditorium in this city. On Monday and Tuesday during this period there will be special student matinees for the children of Warren public, parochial and trade schools. This great production comes to Warren for the first time and is sponsored by the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce.

It seems altogether fitting and highly desirable that the citizens of this community should avail themselves of this opportunity to refresh their vision and strength through faith by contemplating the life of Jesus, the Christ, and Prince of Peace.

I hereby designate this period as "Passion Play Days", and hope that as many citizens as possible will see this sincere portrayal. Above is Dick Bove, JC chairman, at left, Burgess Rice.

A HALF CENTURY AGO—This is the Riverside (nee Revere) Hotel as it appeared more than a half-century ago in 1906. At that time a porch ran along the sides of the building facing Pennsylvania Avenue and the railroad station and graceful trees shaded the front of the structure from the afternoon sun. This week the Steve Rocks of Fairview bought the historic landmark from Nick Marinoble. See other picture on Page One.

Much Interesting Data Unearthed In Ludlow Legion Home's History

(PART I.)

Ludlow—The mortgage-burning ceremony held by James Uber Post in the American Legion Hall provided a momentous occasion for that organization and was representative of years of time and effort, manual labor and finances.

The Legionnaires purchased the building, at a cost of $500, on July 1, 1948, from the Odd Fellows Lodge, which originally erected the structure. Large and roomy, and used for many purposes through the years, it was in need of repairs. Legion members started work inside and outside and results were soon evident.

To date Legionnaires have done all the work, except that of contractors for siding, heating, and linoleum floors in the auditorium

"FIELD OF THUNDER"—That's the Australian natives' word for the Maralinga Proving Ground where Britain will open a series of atomic tests Sept. 12. Newsmap spots the test site with bomb burst. The British are keeping Christmas Island in the Central Pacific—scene of their most recent tests—in readiness for use. This move may be a sign that London is convinced no agreement will be reached in the current five-power disarmament conference.

County Motor Club Plans To Distribute Safety Posters

Development of a spirit of co-operation between all school children and the School Safety Patrol is the first aim of the Warren County Motor Club safety education program in the new school year, D. E. Schuler, president said today.

To launch the program, the Warren County Motor Club will distribute large, colorful posters to schools in Warren County urging youngsters to "Help Your Safety Patrol Help You." The posters are part of the regular monthly safety material distributed to schools by AAA Affiliated Motor Clubs throughout the country.

"The record which the School Safety Patrol has made throughout the nation proves its effectiveness as a force for reducing traffic deaths and injuries among school children," Mr. Schuler said. "However, the Patrols are not a police force. They must rely on voluntary cooperation from other boys and girls, and that can only come tablewear. Mrs. G. W. Olmsted has given two beautiful sets of dishes for use in the building.

Legion history in Ludlow dates from February 1, 1920, when the charter was received for 37 members and initial officers were: Commander, Oscar A. Peterson (deceased); vice commander, Julius Swanson; adjutant, Marie Logan (only nurse from Hamilton township in World War I); finance officer, John G. Johnson; executive committee, Ernest Wallin (deceased), Olger Wallin and Arthur Christensen.

James Uber Post received its name when members memorialized the only township veteran killed in action in World War I. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Uber, who lived on a farm on Kinzua road now owned as a summer home by Lawrence Johnson of Kane, Cpl. James Lester Uber met his death October 8, 1918 in Argonne Forest and his body lies in France.

Much data of community and area interest is recalled in connection with history of this American Legion building, a second installment on Friday to outline some of its earlier years.

Expect Aid Bill

Keep the door open for nuclear armament, notably of Britain and France, should Russia accept the plan and its terms actually be converted into treaty form.

This section, which would also let Russia supply atomic weapons to its satellites, states: "The President, Knowland added, is 'highly appreciative of the bipartisan support he received in the Senate, and from House members who helped bring the figure up.' Knowland talked to reporters after a breakfast meeting with the President at the White House.

Barring a hitch, the House planned to act first on the compromise. Senate approval was expected later in the day.

This would send the measure to Eisenhower by nightfall and clear the way for adjournment after the Senate acts on the civil rights bill.

Disarmament

"Each party undertakes not to transfer out of its control any nuclear weapons, or to accept transfer to it of such weapons, except where, under arrangements between transferor and transferee, their use will be in conformity with paragraph 3."

The section referred to was that providing for use of weapons only in self-defense.

The 11 points of the Western plan, which is officially designated as a "working paper-proposals for partial measures of disarmament," cover not only specific arms reduction and control measures but also the creation of inspection and control machinery under an "international control organization."

Do Beauty Aids With Other Jobs

Looking lovely at all times is the business of Joan Crawford, a great motion picture star who has been at the top for many years. Her figure measurements are the same as they were in 1925; her face is smooth and unlined. Her beauty secret is discipline. Here, she wears clothes that are typically Joan Crawford (left). She likes simple, trim and understated fashions. She is not tall but she wears large hats very well because her proportions are excellent. The star believes in brushing her red-gold hair for beauty (center) and she thinks it's important to brush away from the scalp. Here is the famous Crawford stance (right). First heels, then calves, then hips touch the wall; the hand is withdrawn from the small of the back and you've a youthfully straight figure with no hint of slump. This is an excellent check on your posture.

BY JOAN CRAWFORD
Written Exclusively for NEA Service

EDITOR'S NOTE: There's a real beauty lesson for every woman in the story of Joan Crawford, a star since the 1920's. Today, she has a figure that a young girl might envy and a face that's unlined. In this story, written exclusively for NEA Service, she tells how she has kept her beauty. The star is currently appearing in "The Golden Virgin" for Columbia Pictures.

IT'S my firm belief that a motion picture star owes it to her public to look lovely consistently, not just when she is making a picture.

This is somewhat difficult to do, for the life of an actress is both hectic and busy. There is little time for a carefully planned beauty routine. Minutes must be snatched from here and there during the day to do the things that most people do at a set time each morning and evening.

There are, undoubtedly, many women who face similar difficulties — women whose schedules make it impossible for them to adhere to a rigid beauty routine. I have found that discipline is the only answer to this problem. The time that can't be found at a certain hour in each busy day must be made throughout that day.

Exercise, for instance, is vitally important. And neither hard work nor running about to keep appointments will give anyone the type of exercise needed to preserve an attractive figure.

Perhaps it will help other busy women to know how I've managed to get the proper exercise during my day. I have taught myself never to pick up anything without bending from the waist.

When I need something from a high shelf, I reach from the waist so that I can feel the pull. It's amazing how many times during each day the opportunity for stretching the muscles is presented. It's just a matter of remembering to take advantage of each chance.

Early in my career I learned the importance of good carriage. Without perfect posture, even the loveliest figure looks unattractive. I have found that discipline is oil for emphasis. At one time they were sparse enough to be practically nonexistent. And here's a hint for anyone with the same problem:

Buy a jar of yellow petroleum jelly. Remove half the jelly and fill the space with castor oil. Mix the jelly and oil together, and, with a stiff brush, brush the brows in the opposite direction from which they grow. I found it wonderfully successful.

It seems absurd, but it is often true that a person whose job consumes the major part of her day finds more time to devote to her appearance than many women who have a great amount of leisure. Your mind becomes as busy as your body. You think and plan constantly, and you amaze yourself at how much you can accomplish.

So if you feel that you have little time for beauty, sit down and give some intelligent thought to your daily schedule. Chances are you'll find there are many minutes you could be using to far greater advantage. Remember that if you want to, you can make every movement of your body work for you.

Warren Resident Lauded by The National Association Of Furniture Manufacturers

(Special release from The National Association of Furniture Manufacturers.)

Chicago, Ill.—Par busters make good presidents. At least the National Association of Furniture Manufacturers thinks so. They followed the lead of the national electorate in the last presidential election by electing Thomas K. Creal II of Warren, Pa., who regularly plays golf in the low 70's, as president of the association for the 1957-58 fiscal year.

Although Creal has given up tournament play because of the pressure of business (he last played in the National Amateur Tournament in 1939) NAFM members are ready to back their new chief against President Eisenhower whose scores are not publicly announced. "I hope they meet at Pebbles Beach," said Mrs. Creal, the mother of Tom's four children, the oldest a student at Dartmouth College. "I'd just love a trip to California," she said.

T. K. CREAL II

Creal is a third generation furniture manufacturer, having been preceded by his father and grandfather who were principals in the Jamestown Warren Furniture Co., Warren, Pa. He owned and operated the Paramount Furniture Co., in Warren from 1940 to 1952 when he sold it to and became a vice president of Fancher Furniture Co., Salamanca, N. Y. He is presently president of Paramount Furniture Company in Warren. Two years ago, he was president of the Jamestown Area Furniture Manufacturers Association. Creal's father was one of the founders of NAFM.

Paul Brandt, president of A. Brandt Co., Inc., Fort Worth, Texas, was elected 1st vice president; Harold Sprunger, vice president of Dunbar Furniture Corp., Berna, Indiana, was elected second vice president; and Tinsley W. Rucker, president of Dixon Powdermaker Furniture Co., Jacksonville, Fla., was elected third vice president.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

307 Prospect Street,
Warren, Pa.
August 28, 1957

Editor:

Please publish this, but leave my name off. Thanks.

There has been considerable traffic improvements made in town for the safety and convenience of the motorist and the pedestrian. I would like to suggest another one:

Franklin Street from Pa. Ave. to Madison should have parking on one side only.

or

Franklin Street should be a one way street from Pa. Ave. to Madison Avenue with parking allowed on one side only. Direction of traffic and parking to be determined by proper authorities.

If you have ever attempted to use Franklin Street when it is parked solid with cars on both sides and with traffic going up and down and with pedestrians going from one side to another I think you will agree that something should be done about this hazardous condition.

Let's have some action to remedy this before there are any accidents in this area.

Harrisburg, (P) — Plans for speeding up organization of a state building trades union will be discussed here Thursday at a meeting of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor.

Joseph J. McDonough, federation president, said in a weekend statement that Pennsylvania "probably is the only state where such a statewide building trades union is not already in existence."

He said there was a "great need for establishment of such a body."

He listed these objectives for such a union:

"1. More effective relationship with Department of Labor and Industry on building trades problems."

"2. More effective machinery for gathering and handling prevailing wage data."

"3. More effective defense against attacks upon building trades standards, both from non-union employers and others, including 'independent' unions whose wage scales are considerably lower than those of the legitimate unions."

"4. More effective handling of workmen's compensation and unemployment compensation claims, with particular emphasis upon the former."

"5. More effective handling of legislative problems, both from viewpoint of determining need and preparation of such legislation, as well as promoting full understanding and support of measures and prevention of unnecessary dispute, the latter a condition which as in the past caused the loss of important legislation."

McDonough said his reference to "independent unions" was directed at District 50, United Mine Workers and others who, he said, have substantially lower wage standards.

Foulard Makes a Bow In Wool Knit for Fall

There's lots of fashion news in this one dress. It's a foulard in wool knit by Joseph Guttman. Rib knit is used for cuffs, front closing and collar. It could easily be the most useful dress in a wardrobe.—By GAIL DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor.

Stores of Nation Are Doing Big Back-to-School Business

By SAM DAWSON

New York (AP)—The accent is on youth in the nation's stores today.

Back-to-School promotions are aimed at a record 43,135,000 enrolling in schools and colleges. This means 1 1/2 million more need outfitting this year than last.

First response has ranged from spotty to excellent. Most stores look for the big rush this coming week.

Ads stress the news in school needs, like: "A modern pen for the progressive student" and "Pack up your bubbles a liquid laundry detergent and carry them off to school in a plastic bottle."

Or they play up the standbys of other days, like: "Our poplin auto coat" reminiscent of the first horseless carriages, second hand raccoon coats that saw their first time round in the 20s, and middy blouses.

The National Assn. of Men's Apparel Clubs believes that boys are getting more clothes conscious.

The Boys' Apparel Buyers Assn. gleefully reports that in 1955 the nose counters found 5,682,000 boys in the 15 to 18 age group and look for 8,772,000 in that group in 1956 all busily outgrowing their old clothes.

Cancer Society To Hear Bradford M.D. At Annual Meeting

Donald R. Watkins, M.D. of Bradford, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Warren County Unit, American Cancer Society, to be held at headquarters in the Warren Service Center, 404 Market street, Tuesday, September 3 at 7:30 P.M.

Dr. Watkins received his B.S. degree from Muhlenberg College, Allentown, Pennsylvania, and his M.D. degree at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He served his internship in the Jefferson Medical College Hospital, Philadelphia, where he remained for his Surgical Residence.

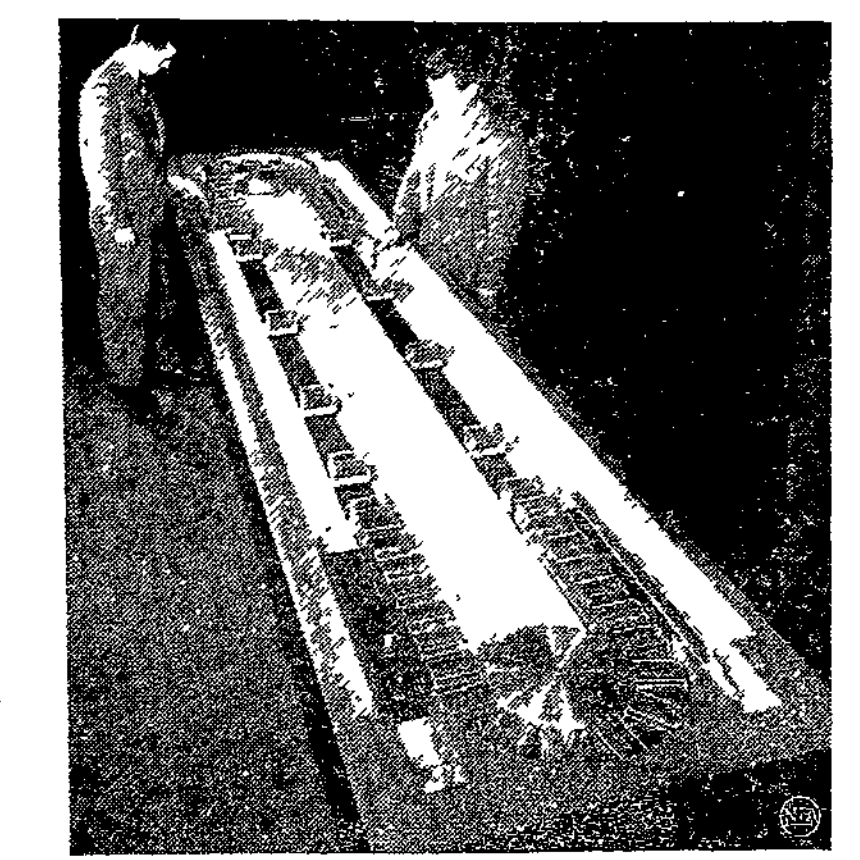

He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Surgery, a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons, a member of the Pennsylvania Tumor Society and of the McKean County and Pennsylvania Medical Associations.

At the present time he is attending surgery at Bradford Hospital, consultant in Coast Surgery at Olean General Hospital and St. Francis Hospital in Olean, Kaul Memorial Hospital, St. Mary's Kene Community Hospital, Kane and Elk County General Hospital, Edinburg.

Dr. Watkins is a director of the McKean County Unit of the American Cancer Society and of the McKean County Tuberculosis and Health Society.

His subject when he comes to speak to the Warren County Unit, will be "The Present Status of Lung Cancer." A question and answer period will follow his address.

Dr. Watkins is highly recommended as a qualified speaker and it will be to the advantage of every ASSEMBLY-LINE PRECISION—People may someday move about crowded cities with assembly-line precision on the "Conveyor" (passenger conveyor belt system). Engineers Richard Turner, left, and Paul Freitag demonstrate for the Washington, D.C. Planning Commission a working model of the system which provides automatic transportation without a crew. The underground system allows passengers to step on a rubber platform moving 1 1/2 m.p.h., the same speed as the cars they will enter. The cars then pick up speed to 15 m.p.h., traveling along a flat conveyor belt. Aim of the system, developed by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Stephens-Adamson Mfg. Co., is low-cost mass transportation for the crowded centers of U.S. cities.

Board Member, Committee Chairman and Committee Member to be present.

ELKS' BRIDGE OUTING

Elks' Bridge Club members again gathered at the summer home of Ivan Jury, on Yankee Bush for their summer outing and regular tournament. After an excellent dinner served by Dick Meacham and his committee, a gift was presented to Mr. Jury. In the evening's play M. A. Kornienko and August Karlson were top, Gust Bova and N. Anthony Scalsie, second, Willard Smith and James V. Scalsie, third, Ed Koebley and James Torrance, fourth.

Clarendon Residents in Big Clean-up Operation

Scenes are improving in Clarendon after residents cooperated fully with the exception of the usual few stragglers with new ordinances passed a few weeks ago by the borough council.

Weeds have been cut along the streets with notices being mailed out only to industries. With further cooperation in the borough, residents are likely to have their clean-up wishes fulfilled in the future.

According to a borough official, starting today, the space between sidewalks and highway, will be much improved by the street department.

The former oil boom community has improved much and further cooperation will be greatly appreciated and things should be accomplished very soon to everyone's satisfaction.

TRI-STATE P.G.A.

Pittsburgh (P)—Lew Wotsham of Oakmont Country Club took a 2-stroke lead into the final round today of the 27th Tri-State PGA golf tournament at Shannopin Country Club. Wotsham fired 69, two under par, yesterday to give him a 36-hole total of 136.

GOP CHOICE—Former Gov. Walter J. Kohler, GOP candidate for the Senate seat on the slate Joseph McCarty leaves polling booth in Sheshegan, Wis., after casting his vote. Kohler, 53, defeated his Democratic opponent, William Proxmire, 41, twice in previous gubernatorial elections.

Oddities in the News

Automation seems to have moved into the esthetic world of culture.

The UNIVAC Scientific Exchange, meeting in Seattle, announced last week that some of the electronic brains have turned their hands to writing music.

The first effort was a ditty called "Push Button Bertha," which has yet to appear on any best seller list.

The 100 scientists and mathematicians who attended the exchange conference have high hopes for their electronic composers.

Said Dr. Robert P. Rich: "The machines may never be able to match the best efforts of Mozart but they can beat rock 'n' roll right now."

Which might not be much of a pat on the back, at that.

Plans also were announced to put TELEVAC, a sort of kid brother to UNIVAC, to work at West-

"This is all supposed to be very secret—but let me know if I'm not whispering loud enough!"

post Conn. country play-house No. TELEVAC is not going to write plays.

It will measure boredom among playgoers, pinpointing the lag in interest for script changes.

Nudeist unit got a setback out West last week.

Colorado nudists slapped a boycott on the regional meeting of the Midwest Sunbathing Club because the latter ousted a chick named Evelyn West.

Seems Evelyn takes off her clothes for a living. She's a night-club stripper.

The problem, should pros be allowed at amateur meetings?

Sounds like something for the AAU, which has been passing judgment on such things for years.

Judge John P. O'Hara in Detroit passed judgment on a different type of case.

He decided to hold Fried Whiting, 42, for trial on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon despite Whiting's explanation.

"That blackjack really isn't mine, you honor. It belongs to my mother."

And, by George, it did.

Radio Entertainers from WJTN Booked for Youngsville Fair

Committees working out the many details necessary to insure a successful 26th annual Youngsville Community Fair, scheduled on Island Park September 4, 5, 6 and 7, have several announcements concerning special attractions lined up.

Jack and Gertrude Dunnegan, popular singers over Jamestown's WJTN, will be heard in a free act at the fair grounds Thursday evening; the popular and prize-winning Youngsville Firemen's Band will play a concert Wednesday night, and the Youngsville High Eagles Band will appear in concerts Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Acceptances for the big Booster Parade have been received from Cornplanter American Legion, Drum and Bugle Corps, Sugar Grove and Youngsville Drum and Bugle Corps, with the Warren outfit seen in a special exhibition at 7:00 p. m. on Friday.

There will be prize ribbons for winners in each division of the Kiddies' Parade at 1:30 p. m. Friday, with free tickets for midway rides for all competing and a candy treat for all participants. Also for the pleasure of the small fry, Friday will be Kiddies' Day on the midway and all rides will be half-price until 5:00 p. m.

Another event on the special entertainment bill is an Amateur Show, slated for Saturday evening and open to all area talent. Winners in this attraction will be awarded cash prizes of $15, $12, $10, $8 and $5.

From another committee comes announcement of a Tractor Contest at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, with winners receiving prizes of $10, $8, and $5. Judging will be in three weight classes: Under 3,000, 3,000 to 4,500 and over 4,500.

Erne County Agricultural Agent William Urash will judge cattle, swine, sheep, etc., and plans call for an excellent Holstein division in the Cattle Show at 1:00 p. m. Thursday.

Most comprehensive Fair booklets have been printed in promotion of this outstanding county event, with complete listing of all show, competitive and entertainment attractions.

There is no admission charge for the Fair, but, because of limited parking space and necessity of hiring parking personnel, a small charge will be made for each car entering the grounds after 1:00 p. m. Wednesday.

Quarantine on Potato War Fungus Is Lifted

Harrisburg (AP) --- The State Agriculture Department has lifted the quarantine against potato war fungus which had been in effect for as many as 38 years in some areas of the state.

William L. Henning, agriculture secretary, said the ban lifting permits planting of potatoes in soils formerly believed infected with the fungus.

The disease, believed to have been imported from Europe, was first discovered near Hazelton in 1918. Later surveys showed its presence in garden potato patches in 16 real region counties, Henning said, adding:

"The quarantine lifted today was for relatively small areas in Wayne, Lackawanna, Susquehanna, Cambria and Sullivan counties. Secretary Henning said that areas in Schuylkill, Jefferson, Clearfield, Centre, Bedford, Fulton, Somerset and Huntingdon counties had been quarantined at one time.

Light refreshment

MODERN people have little time for yesterday's heavy foods. They pack their picnic baskets with light, less-filling food and drink---and they look and feel better for it.

Pepsi-Cola, too, takes this modern point of view about sensible diet. Never heavy, never too sweet, today's Pepsi is reduced in calories. Pick up a few cartons of Pepsi, to enjoy at the beach, to refresh without filling wherever you week-end.

Turley Pitches Yanks to 5-4 Win Over Sox in Vital Game

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Bullet Bob Turley, once a strong but wild strikeout artist who fired away and hoped for the best, finally has become a pitcher, a poised and powerful ace who has slammed the door on the Chicago White Sox in their big bid to overhaul New York's Yankees.

The big righthander has proved himself virtually over night in his sixth major league season—just when the Yankees needed him most.

He has won nine of 11 and has become the major league leader with a 2.41 earned run average.

It was Turley who fanned Minnie Miñoso with the bases loaded in the eighth for a 12-6 triumph in Tuesday's opener. Last night, with the tying run on third and the winning run on second, Turley sent a called third strike past Sammy Esposito in the ninth for a 5-4 victory that put the Yankees 5½ games ahead of the second place Sox.

While the Yankees were at work in what may prove to be the wrap-up job in their run for a third straight American League pennant, Milwaukee's Braves came off with a seven-game lead in pursuit of their first National League flag after a 12-6 clobbering by the New York Giants.

The defeat melted a half game from the Milwaukee edge as Pittsburgh's Ronnie Kline blanked St. Louis 2-0 with a six-hitter and skipped the Cards to third. Brooklyn took second, beating Chicago's Cubs 4-3 in 14 innings. Cincinnati gained full charge of fourth, beating Philadelphia back to fifth, 6-5.

In the other AL games, Boston was held to only two hits by Jim Bunning and Bill Hoest—but one was Ted Williams' 33rd home run that defeated Detroit 1-0. Baltimore walloped Cleveland 19-6, regaining fifth from the Tribe. Washington defeated Kansas City, 3-2.

EXHIBITION GAME

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles and Green Bay Packers are at opposite ends of the pole today following the Packers 16-13 win last night in a National Football League exhibition game. Green Bay now has a 3-0 record, while Philadelphia is 0-3.

Fred Cone's 37-yard field goal in the third period was the clincher for the Packers, cutting down a gallant 13-point rally by the Birds in the same period. Cone also had field goals from the 41 and 36-yard lines.

ORIOLES SLAUGHTER TRIBE

Cleveland (AP) — Baltimore's Orioles got 19 hits last night and made each one count as they beat the Cleveland Indians 19-6.

The rout enabled Baltimore to recapture fifth place from the Indians. Ray Narleski, first of four Cleveland pitchers, was charged with his fourth loss. He's won 9.

Warren Boy on Donora All-Star, All-Time Grid Eleven

Donora, long considered the schoolboy 'hotbed' of Pennsylvania, has named Johnny Foley, now of Warren, as one of her All-Time, All-Star greats, according to Pittsburgh papers reaching Warren this week.

Foley, a member of that famous schoolboy backfield that included Arnold Galiffa, who became an All-American at Army, and "Deacon Dan" Towler who reached terrific heights as fullback for the Los Angeles Rams and several times a member of the All-Pro teams, was named a halfback on the 3rd team. This trio was together on the unbeaten 1943-44 team.

Selections extended from 1931 through 1956 and every team was star-studded, as the third team also included name athletes such as Rudy Andabaker, of the Pittsburgh Steelers and Tommy Ballaban who was once named Catholic All-American from Xavier College.

Foley, who now resides at 319 East Fifth Avenue, Warren, comes from the same athletic family that has contributed Bob and "Ooks" Foley to Warren High Athletic teams.

Kennedy & Kinzua Nines Scheduled For Final Tests

Any advantage that playing on the home field will be in the Kennedy Grillmen's favor in their battle for the 1957 pennant of the Chautauque County Association with the Kinzua Pennsylvanians in the final schedule set of games this coming Sunday.

Kennedy, in a season-long hassle with Kinzua for the gonfalon and currently in a tie for the peak, is billed to entertain fifth-place Onoville on the Kennedy grounds.

Kinzua, on the other hand, takes to the highway for a trip to Falconer for the campaign-ender with Manager Marv Bader's athletes, fast-wrapped in an eighth-spot tie with Brocton.

Aside from the county-wide interest in the Kinzua-Kennedy complication, the meeting of the seventh-place Sugar Grove and third-place Frewsburg at the latter's field is far from an also-ran as an attraction, since the Burghers outrank fourth-place Busti by a mere half game (11-5 to 11-6).

By the same token, Busti's outing with tenth-place Sherman at Busti takes on a more than ordinary importance, for the homestays could swap places with the Burghers in the final standings by the combination of a victory and a reverse for their rivals.

The other league finale will be staged by Brocton, co-holder of the ninth position and sixth-place Harmony at Harmony. Here, again, an alteration in the standings is a possibility.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.	G.B.
Kennedy Grill	15	2	.882	—
Kinzua	15	2	.822	—
Frewsburg	11	5	.688	3½
Busti	11	6	.647	4
x-Onoville	10	6	.625	4½
Harmony	6	11	.353	9
Sugar Grove	5	12	.294	10
Brocton	4	13	.235	11
Falconer	4	13	.235	11
Sherman	3	14	.176	12

U. S. Walker Cup Captain Withholding His Line-up

Minneapolis, (AP)—U. S. Walker Cup Captain Charlie Coe delayed a decision on his opening day line-up for a final appraisal today of Uncle Sam's calmly confident forces.

"I still haven't made up my mind what combinations to use in Friday's two-ball foursomes," Coe said after yesterday's practice round. "I want to take another look to see how we do today."

Chevy gives you more!

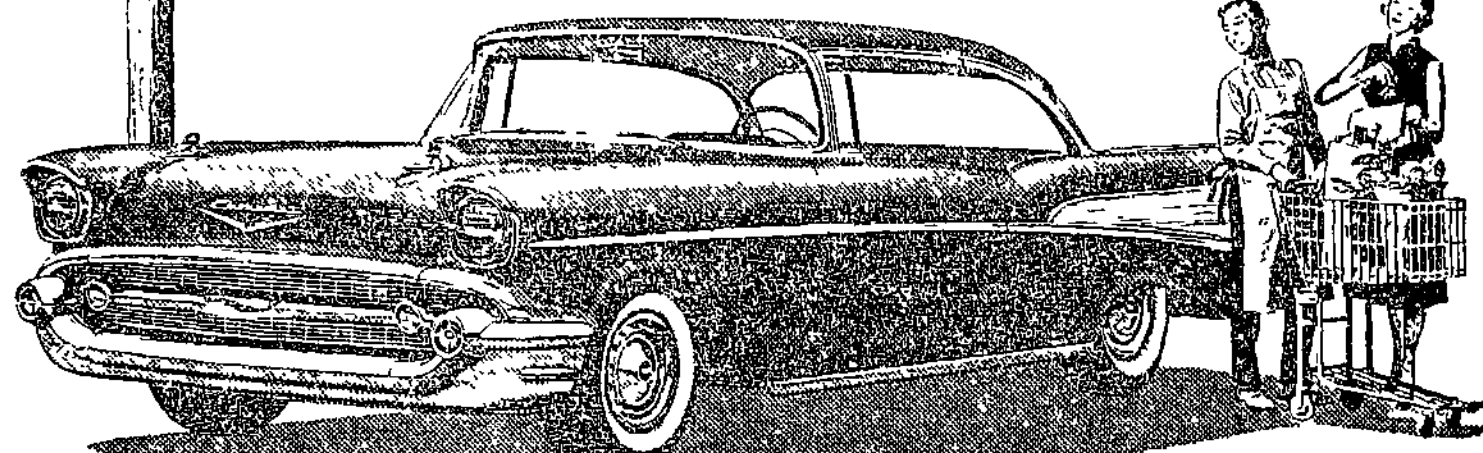

Give yourself five minutes beside a Chevrolet, studying the fine details of its Body by Fisher. Take five more on the road, sampling the sweet response of power and smoothness of ride. Be hard to please. A Chevy loves to show how beautifully it's put together—and what it can do for your pride.

No other car in the low-price field tells you in quite such certain terms that it was born for effortless handling. A Chevrolet has its pounds in the right places—keeps its stability and stance, no matter how sharply the road may dip, turn or climb. Its wide-based outrigger type rear springs help it to resist pitch and sway, and move with eager, easy strides. And with its ball-bearing steering, commanding a Chevrolet is simply a matter of your hands giving gentle hints to the wheel. It spoils you—this car with its nimble ways. The U. S. practice alignment, however, may have given some tip-off on how Coe plans to deploy in quest of a 15th American victory in this 16th collision of the best Amateur golfers of America and Great Britain.

Martinez Takes Verdict Over Veteran Hal Gomez

Boston (AP)—Isidro Martinez today looked hopefully up the featherweight ladder after confounding veteran Harold Gomes on a south-paw switch.

Martinez, who arrived only recently from Panama, won a unanimous 10-round decision over the Providence, R. I., boy last night in a nationally televised bout by changing from orthodox to left-handed style near the end of the third round.

The Central American, weighing 129½ to Gomes' 127½, snapped Harold's winning streak at 12 bouts. He has 10-3-1 record to 40-4 for Gomes.

Tennis Championships Will Start Tomorrow

Forest Hills, N. Y. (AP) The National tennis championships get under way at the West Side Tennis Club tomorrow and if stubborn Dick Savitt wins it, the U. S. brass would be in a dilemma, indeed.

This is the shake-down tournament for spots on the Davis Cup squad. Savitt, a big, powerful blaster has steadfastly refused to play on the Cup squad since he got into a shubarb with Frank Shields when the latter was non-playing captain some years ago. Savitt has been seeded No. 2 behind Aussie Ashley Cooper.

Fine Comeback Is Being Staged By Pirate's Pitcher

Pittsburgh (AP)—Pitcher Ronnie Kline, who stumbled off to a poor start, is making a brilliant comeback.

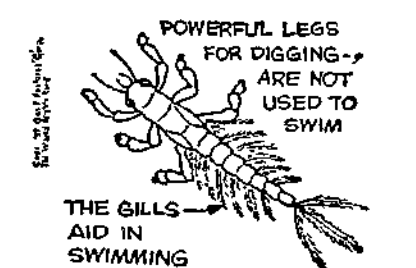

The native of Callary, Pa., won his fourth straight game last night with a masterful six-hit shutout as the Pirates recorded a 2-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

That's pretty good for a fellow who, until three weeks ago, was struggling along with a 2-15 record. At one stretch, through June and July, he lost nine straight. His log now is a more respectable 6-15.

Kline feels two things are responsible for his rejuvenation—more rest between starts and more support from his mates.

As they did the previous night, Bill Virdon and Billy Mazaroski drove in both Pittsburgh runs. Virdon did it with a single in the third. Mazaroski's triple scored Frank Thomas from second in the seventh.

Defending Champion and Old Master to Meet For Club Title

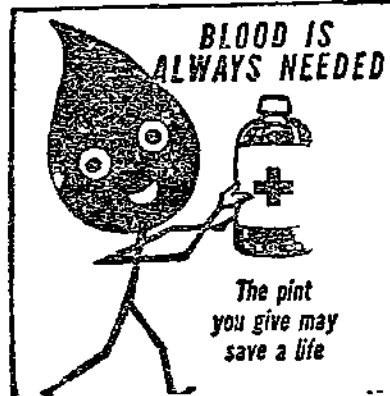

Defending Champion, "Skip" Morine will have to turn back the old master, "Tim" Creal, to retain his Conewango Valley Country Club golf title.

Yesterday afternoon, Creal disposed of Pete Juliano 6 up and four to play to work his way into the 36-hole final match against the long hitting Morine. Creal had previously won over Bob Walsh by a 5 and 4 count and Dick Krapfel by the same margin.

Enroute to the payoff round, Morine defeated Dr. Wallace Sedwick 4 and 3, Johnny Trevenen 5 and 3 and Bob Blair 4 and 3.

In the championship final consolation, Johnny Carter defeated Dr. A. F. Yerg and will meet the winner of the Sedwick-Bob Ritchie match.

In the second night Harold Smith will meet Lloyd Cleveland in the finals. Smith defeated Tim and Tom Atwell and Bob Anstead while Cleveland won over Westy Ensworth, Phil Pritchard and George Konkol. In the consolation Tim Atwell defeated Bill Simonsen, Sam Rasmussen, turned back Al Mitchell, Kerm Vicaner defeated Westy Ensworth. The incomplete quarter final match pits

Dean Anderson against Howard Colt.

The third night semi-finals finds Billy Lundahl meeting the winner of Milt Dahler and Dr. Earl Myers, while Dr. Jim Giunta will play Tommy Fisher.

In the consolation round, the only completed match is Gaston Hamilton's win over Scotty Calderwood.

The fourth night semi-finals finds Claude Schindler meeting either Merle Kremer or Joe Goblunger while Ken Graham meets Merle Russell. In the consolation Johnny Fanaritis will play either Bill Walker or Stuart Beckley and Louie Davis meets Bob Voigt.

Famous Racer Believed Lost in Saratoga Blaze

Saratoga Springs, N. Y. (AP)—The King Ranch's Here and There, fresh from a victory in the $29,500 Alabama Stakes here yesterday was believed to have perished early today in a barn fire at Saratoga race track.

The fire destroyed a public stable that housed about 10 to 12 horses owned by the King Ranch of Texas.

Officials of the Pinkerton Detective Agency said they believed the filly, which has won $39,100 in 13 starts since 1956, perished in the blaze. A final check of all the horses had not been made.

Pinkerton officials said the fire apparently started about 1:15 a. m. in straw piled alongside the 30-stable barn.

No one was injured.

Yankees May Be Balked Again In Try to Get Maglie

New York (AP)—The New York Yankees, striving to strengthen their injury-riddled pitching staff for the stretch drive, may be balked a second time in an effort to obtain Brooklyn's Sal (The Barber) Maglie, one time scourge of the National League.

In 1955 the Cleveland Indians refused to pass on the 40-year old righthander when he was placed on the waiver list by the New York Giants after pacing the National League club to the 1951 and '54 championships.

This time it is the Chicago White Sox, who trail the Yankees by 5½ games after losing last night 5-4, standing in the road of the American League champions.

Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the White Sox, said they claimed Maglie the first time he was placed on the waiver list but that the Dodgers withdrew him.

"This time, we let him go through and will bargain for him," Comiskey said.

The Yankees also waived on the Barber the second time around, thus setting up a battle of dollars.

Under the waiver clause, all clubs in the National League first must waive on Maglie, who is said to be receiving $30,000 for pitching this year.

PONY LEAGUE SERIES

Washington, Pa. (AP)—The Lufkin Texas team was an odds-on favorite to win the pony league series as Waltham, Mass., and Maywood, Ill., were scheduled to meet today for the right to battle Lufkin for the championship. Lufkin, only undefeated team in the double-elimination tournament, drew a bye. The Waltham-Maywood game was scheduled for 8:30 p. m. EDT. One team is bound to be eliminated as each has 3-1 records.

GRASS COURT TENNIS

Philadelphia (AP)—First-seeded Mary Ann Mitchell, of San Leandro, Calif., weathered a strong challenge by Nancy O'Connell, of Highland Park, Ill. yesterday before reaching the fourth round of the 40th annual U. S. Girls grass court tennis championship by 6-3, 8-6. Today Miss Mitchell plays ninth-seeded Karen Hantze, of San Diego, who yesterday defeated Gladys Craven, of Garden City, N. Y., 6-0, 6-0.
